Milam Recording Record Voter Roll

Sign Up YHS Lists Top Scholars Floods County

Voter registration forms stacked up in the Milam tax office this week with a record registration indicated.

Valter White, county tax collector-assessor said the flood of registrations were probably caused by new election laws which eliminated all age exemptions.

Milam County registered 9,637 voters in 1969. The rolls are expected to exceed 10,000 this year.

Several independent, door-to-door canvases in both Rockdale and Cameron were also credited for the last week rush of registrations.

White said the final roll of voters would take about twice as much time to complete this year because of new registration forms. He said they expected to have a large percentage of duplicate registrations where voters had registered in October and then again this week, or where a member of the family registered for an individual, and then the individual registered again in one of the canvases.

Saturday, January 31, is the deadline for voter registration. State and local elections in 1970 are for Governor and other state executive offices, State Senator, U. S. Representative, State Representative, District Clerk, County Judge, County Clerk, County School Superintendent, County Treasurer, Commissioners, 2 and 4, and Justices of the Peace.

City elections will be for mayor and two places on the city council.

Also to be voted on in November are constitutional amendments including liquor-by-the-drink.

White said the only voter registration exemption would be for a person absent from their country of residence in active military service.

Yoe High School lists students on the third six weeks honor roll and also lists the semester honor roll.

Coward New Demo Chairman

Morris Coward, Marlow precinct chairman, Monday night was elected interim county chairman of the Milam Democratic Party. The executive committee met at Milam District Courtroom.

Max McClaren, now a candidate for the Milam County superintendent's post being vacated by incumbent H. D. Maxwell, said the new chairman has been active in politics for more than 25 years, serving as precinct chairman, delegate to both county and state Democratic conventions.

Howard is vice president of the Milam County Farm Bureau, a deacon of the Marlow Baptist Church and a board member of the Milam County March of Dimes.

Democratic board vacancies filled were: Rockdale Precinct 16 by John M. Weed, Jr., succeeding his late father; Thorndale precinct by Joe Yaeger; Ben Arnold precinct by Delahunt, Marlow precinct by Mrs. Morris Coward; and Buckholts precinct by Jack Dennis Ruzicka.

Coward will fill the county chairmanship until the May 2 Democratic Primary.

Rockdale 'Theater'

The Alcoa Trailblazer -- a unique expandable theater and aluminum exhibit on wheels -- visited Alcoa's Rockdale Works last Friday on its way from Houston to another National Homebuilders Association convention in Phoenix.

Supervisors and office personnel at the plant witnessed the 30-minute presentation designed to boost the use of aluminum before the customers of Alcoa distributors.

DR Students Visit Milam

Two 23-year-old seniors from the Dominican Republic at Texas A&M University are visiting Cameron and Milam County agricultural centers this week on a "field" trip.

They are Ramon Bejaran, of Santiago, and Luis Alvarez, of San Juan, visiting Milam County Agent J. D. Moore and his staff for the week.

Students at A&M since May, 1966, they handle English quite articulately considering they knew only the grammar and written English when they started at the College Station university.

Ramon is the son of a sizeable farm operator who operates a dairy farm and who raises bananas, selling the production under contract to United Fruit Co.

And Luis is the son of a career Dominican Republic Army captain and a teacher, his mother, who once headed the Dominican Party in home city San Juan.

Their observations on their homeland are interesting since it was the scene of a revolution in 1965 when some 45,000 American marines went in to stabilize conditions. It was what was to be the beginning of a "transition" period, Luis says.

can marines went in to stabilize conditions. It was what was to be the beginning of a "transition" period, Luis says.

GROWTH IMPRESSES

Both students are impressed with the tremendous growth in the United States, having traveled in West Texas, California and the Midwest during their three and one-half years in the United States. They came to A&M University as exchange students a year after the change in the Dominican Republic.

Ramon sees a future in the dairy industry and is planning to go to work for the Carnation Co., which processes much of dairy production of his homeland. His major is dairy manufacturing.

And Luis, a major in plant and soil sciences, plans to work in the developing of fertilizer industry in the Republic. He says he also hopes to return to the U. S. in the future to pursue a graduate degree, having received several offers as a graduate assistant in the States.

The Dominican Republic shares the island of Hispaniola with Haiti to its west, the Republic being the larger of the two, about one-sixteenth the size of Texas.

Indeed, Columbus landed in what is now the Dominican Republic, a short time after the then island seeing establishment of Western Hemisphere's first university, the Autonomous University of Santo Domingo in 1538.

Santo Domingo is the capital of the still basically agriculture country, where an estimated 62 percent live in rural areas. One of the students noted literacy is increasing rapidly, but the literacy rate is only about 50 percent of the people.

Both corporate farming and co-op farming are underway in the Republic, Ramon and Luis say. Their output of coffee, sugar cane, cocoa, beans and tobacco are shipped to Europe, Africa and the United States, which consumes almost all of the Republic's sugar output since the embargo on Cuba.

The Republic has iron ore, which produces the world's best steel, Luis says, quantities of bauxite and some oil exploration.

DR CHANGING

Noting the enormous change in American agriculture and city, Luis and Ramon also emphasize the major changes in their homeland in the past seven years.

"Everything is changed," Luis says. Buildings, roads and other capital improvements mark the "transition" period through which the Republic is passing.

The Republic, with a population between 4 and 5 millions, won its independence from Haiti in 1844, after struggles with France and other powers operating in the West Indies since Columbus' landing in 1492.

They noted in passing the change since Trujillo went out of power in 1961 in the Dominican Republic. Their view is modern, as the view of bright students across the world is forward looking.

They well may be impressed with some of Milam County's efforts in dairying livestock and crop techniques, and Milam County will see why the Dominican Republic encouraged their education in these United States.

Milam-Hearne Co-Effort OK'd

The executive director of the Williamson-Burnet County Opportunities program Monday recommended that Cameron's effort for a child care center seek alliance with Robertson County.

Rawleigh S. Elliott, of Georgetown, advised Chairman Bill Hornung, the Revs. James Lafayette and Wirt Skinner, County Judge O. B. Harden and County Supt. H. D. Maxwell, among others, of the possibilities for federal funding for such a program.

The group had decided at mid-afternoon Monday to pursue a joint effort with Robertson County efforts centering in Hearne where a federal-oriented county program at present is awaiting reorganization.

"Milam County's 20,000 population should enable you to participate in federal funding for a child care center here," Elliott said.

He said that "in-kind" funding boosts operating income with allowances made for a child care center, which the Cameron group, and outgrowth of the Cameron Ministerial Alliance, seeks to open this year. A building owned by First Methodist Church of Cameron has been approved for the child care center, both by the church and child care board.

Elliott said it would take about $35,000 a year to operate a full child care center, year round, beyond a regular baby sitting type center, which the project leaders thought might start with a $15,000 budget. But funding in cash from the county or other sources is unavailable in that quantity.

Volunteers from specific professions and college and high-school levels are needed in running a child center. A number of Central Texas cities of Cameron's size are operating centers, including Belton, Georgetown, Burnet as well as larger centers in Temple.

First intent of the child care center, Rev. Lafayette noted, was a child care service enabling mothers, now unemployed, to seek employment or to receive training. Children must be from disadvantaged families.

The group was seeking additional meetings and contacts with Robertson County officials Monday.

The Round Rock Dragons gave the Cameron Yoe men their first district defeat Tuesday night in a 65-58 upset at Round Rock. Johnny Steamer led Yoe scoring with 21 points, Robert Brashear added 19 and Willie White 10, Brian Rhyndart led the Dragons with 31 points.

The Cameron freshmen won their game 43-36 with Dennis Hardwick scoring 16 points.

SCHOOL CHILDREN NEED CLOTHING

The clothing may be left at the school tax office, corner of First and Central streets across from Milam Courthouse.

MOD To Help 12 Defective Babies

March of Dime executive committee this week completed plans to help 12 needy birth-defect cases in Milam County.

Rev. Don Marquart, pastor of Abiding Lutheran Church, Cameron, led discussion of the cases under study by the county health unit, local physicians and committee for several weeks.

Committeemen were unanimous in deciding to help local people, officials reported.

Emphasis this year is to get Milam County people to report birth defect cases so committeemen and the board of directors can place MOD funds where most needed.

Rev. Marquart said any family with a birth-defect child may contact him, Chapter chairman Max McClaren or chapter secretary Mrs. Loretta Brock for consideration through the Milam MOD.

The committee also completed plans to help with the 12 needy birth-defect cases in the county, assuring $150 assistance to each family.

Committeemen urge that Milam Countians report cases needing help to MOD officials.

Members of the executive committee are: Rev. Marquart, N. L. Caperton, 1969 drive chairman E. L. Edwards, Mrs. Rafael Barcenas, Henry Litzman and Darrell Walker.

McClaren and Mrs. Brock serve as ex-officio members.

laws that removed all registration exemptions. Adding to the tax office chores is the new registration form that requires duplicate entries for each voter.

110

Ry F. M. L.

When one contemplates what is done, he also thinks upon what is undone. Some things we can do, some we can't.

A case in point is worth repeating. Pardon a personal reference and a repetition, but it makes a point.

When we lived at 706 E. Eighth St., 110, then 105 perhaps, was asked to unclog the drain pipe beneath the bathroom lavatory.

Simple enough, said I. So I borrowed a wrench to loosen the nut on the pipe so the clogged could be unclogged.

And the drain pipe came loose easy enough. Out came a toothpaste top, a melting bar of soap, a few bobby pins and such, which caused stoppage.

But to make things complete, I unhesitatingly put the pipe beneath one of the faucets of the lavatory, without drain pipe connected, and ran water through it to clear any residue remaining.

Of course the water went down the drain, spilling all over the bathroom floor before I realized the inadvertence.

"Janet, bring a mop," yelled I. Roars of laughter came from another part of the house as she realized my stupidity.

I at least turned off the water. And mopped the floor. And finally put back the drain pipe, now cleared, before once again trying to check it.

Now she calls a plumber. And in all "my wisdom," I can't imagine why.

110-110-110

It is a humbling experience, if not sometime humiliating, to serve with the public. For the individual often takes advantage of this vast, faceless position to air a pet peeve which seldom has any connection with the one who gets the message.

It brings to mind a cartoon a few years ago, which showed in several frames the tired father coming home from work, barking at his wife for some inconsequential reason, who in turn rages at their son who in turns rages at his younger sister who yells at the family dog who chases the cat, who, in final frustration, tries to climb a curtain, reach the cage and eat the canary, warbling all the time about the chain of events aforementioned.

MAJOR WATER ASSOCIATION...

It is good to see the Bell-Milam-Falls Water Association organizing for necessary installation of water pipe for parts of the three counties.

It is proof again that rural living is to be, if not already, like urban living with more space between.

The organization seeks 600 customers on about 200 miles of waterline, about the largest area to be served in any Central Texas water district.

A final meeting is scheduled February 3, one that can mean this basic need, water, will be

VIEWS AND NUMBERS.....

It is never superfluous to remind eligible voters to register. Sometimes it is too late.

Midnight, January 31 is the deadline in Texas. Only about 65 percent had signed up in Milam County by early week.

Milam County has never voted much over 6,000 people. Officials advise almost 10,000 are eligible for the vote here.

No need to repeat the phrases about "duty to vote" and all the rest, we suppose, met in a wide area of the three three-county area. It stretches from Bartlett to Travis, reaching Davilla, Sharp, Holland, Rogers, Buckholts, Meeks, Wilson, Academy and surrounding area.

Not only present residents will be served by this water system. It is an area which can attract new population with a basic, reliable water system for home and farm use.

It is only another sign of the enormous change in this part of Texas.

but for the lack of interest in this and many Texas counties, where the average is well below ours.

Your nation is led by men and women you elect. After the fact, it is too late to criticize those elected whom you did not even vote for or against.

If the "silent majority" would speak, it would be heard at the ballot box so that majority and minority reflect the perspective of views and numbers.

Old Philosopher

Dear editor:

In case you've forgotten, in my letter last week I promised to figure out something for the 50,000 people being let off by the space agency to do.

As you know, the space agency has decided by popular demand that one trip to the moon after another from now on is more than the people are interested in paying for, so it has let off 50,000 of its workers and cut back some on its programs.

Now here we've got a fine group of trained, skilled people who have demonstrated, with the amazing success of the moon shots, that they know how to concentrate on a problem and whip it brilliantly.

Why let them scatter to the far reaches of the country and hunt up other jobs that won't challenge their full abilities? Why not keep them intact and put them to work on something as challenging as the first two moon shots were?

Of course, it has to be something within the realm of the possible. No use assigning them the job say of ending wars. Everybody knows the way to end wars is to change the brand of human beings we've got, which is like saying the way to end hurricanes is to change the brand of weather we've got.

Pollution? That problem is too big too. I figure the answer to pollution is people and the more people you have working on it the more pollution you've got.

Remember, 50,000 is a relatively small figure in a population of over 200 million, so let's put them on a relatively small problem.

I'd like to see them tackle the problem of tin cans and bottles. I've forgotten how many million tons of cans and bottles this country is throwing away every year but it's enormous, judging by the ones on the road near this Johnson grass farm, and a hundred years from now we'll all be up to our ankles in the things, not to mention where 200 years from now.

What this country needs is a tin can that disintegrates 15 minutes after you open it and a bottle that melts when you're through with it. Also, while they're at it they ought to work on a plate you can eat for dessert and a cup and saucer you can crumble up for dog food.

If you don't think this idea will work, remember I don't either.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Workmen's compensation act covering municipal employees became effective on September 19. Attorney General Martin advised the Texas Industrial Accident Board.

Industry leaders to host new storm warnings.

New taxes and serious economic losses are in store for Texas if the Nixon administration scraps the import quota for the tariff system, say informed officials.

Gov. Ben Barnes called on the Legislative Budget Board staff to determine how much the removal of import barriers would reduce state revenue should oil prices tumble from $3 to $2.25 a barrel. Import problem, together with long range appropriation commitments, could create a "very, very grave" tax problem for the Legislature next year, Barnes said.

Gov. Preston Smith expressed a similar view in a press conference, terming the potential tax loss from tampering with import quotas "severe."

Democratic Senate candidate Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. predicted that state tax revenues, 40 percent of which are derived from the petroleum industry, would "drastically decline" if the tariff system is imposed. He noted that many school districts also draw the bulk of their local revenues for public school support from the oil and gas industry.

Alvin Hope, San Antonio independent oil man, told the Texas Railroad Commission that proposals to reduce crude oil through a sliding scale tariff collected by the U.S. Treasury would be the "death knell of the domestic industry as we know it."

TECHNICAL-VOCATIONAL
Governor's conference on technical - vocational education will be held here March 23-24.

About 1,000 are expected to attend sessions held in the Austin Municipal Auditorium and Convention Center.

Governor Smith said the state wants ideas about the types of training needed and the resources available, as well as to inform citizens of the importance of vo-tech ed to the future prosperity of Texas.

GUBERNATORIAL RACE

Texans once again will have a choice between Preston Smith and Paul Eggers for Governor of Texas.

Governor Smith was first to announce. On the first anniversary of his swearing in he stated that he would seek re-election. Next day, Paul W. Eggers, Smith's Republican opponent in 1968, said he would make the race again.

Neither of the two men has an opponent in his respective primary, as yet.

State Election Officer Urges Voter Registration

By Vern Sanford

As the January 31 deadline for voters to register draws near, Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., the state's election officer, issued a "last call" to those who are 21 or over. Registration is at the county tax assessor-collector's office, but in many counties, deputies have been set up at convenient locations. Persons over 20 who live in towns of less than 10,000 or in rural areas must re-register every year. Under the old law, persons past 60 in small towns and rural areas did not have to register, but it now is required every year. If they fail to register by January 31, they will not be able to vote in this year's important elections.

Dies also pointed out that young people who will become 21 during 1970 can register before their 21st birthday. Tax office will mark on their registration certificate the date on which they will become 21 and therefore eligible to vote.

Both political parties and a number of civic groups are putting on registration drives, seeking a goal of more than 4 million registered voters this year.

In more ways than one! First of all we provide an essential product—dependable electricity—to make living easier, more pleasant and comfortable. But TP&L people do more. They are good neighbors. They aid youth groups, serve in civic organizations, work in Community Improvement Programs and help in many other ways. They are linemen, power plant personnel, engineers, meter readers, commercial and home service employees, agricultural consultants and men and women in a number of other positions with our Company. If you have car trouble, it's possible that it will be a TP&L employee who stops to change your tire or offer other assistance. People who care help build a company that cares. That's TP&L.

'69 License Plates Can Cause Trouble

Do not casually throw away your old 1969 Texas license plate after replacing it with the 1970 tag warns the American Automobile Association. Your old plate could end up on a stolen car and cause you to be involved in a sticky legal entanglement.

Motorists should destroy their 1969 plates by breaking them in half before discarding them in the trash can. Otherwise the license plate could be sifted out and placed on a stolen car. If this car was stolen or became involved in an accident, the plate would be traced to its owner, causing needless involvement in what could be a messy situation.

You Don't Say . . .

APARTHEID correctly if you are pronouncing it UH PART hide. APARTHEID is pronounced uh PART hide and means racial segregation and discrimination against non-whites as it has never been practiced anywhere in the world as ruthlessly as in the Republic of South Africa. There it is supported by law as an instrument of government policy. APARTHEID as used today almost always refers to its practice in that Republic.

Neal Cited For Civic Efforts

C. W. Neal, an insurance executive at Angleton, Texas was cited for community leadership with the Chamber of Commerce 'Citizen of the Year' award. It was the first time that the citizenship award was returned to a previous winner.

Neal is married to the former Dorothy Jane Harrell of Cameron, daughter of Mrs. S. M. Harrell, 403 E. 7th, Cameron. He is a partner of Lehmann-Neal Insurance Agency, Angleton.

The award was presented at the annual Angleton Chamber banquet on January 19 before more than 250 members and guests. Neal first won the award in 1965 and was again elected for the coveted award by vote of the membership for his community work in 1969.

An active civic and church worker, Neal has served as a board member of the Brazoria County United Fund, community and leadership drive chairman of the BCUF, chairman of the First Capital District of the Boy Scouts, board member of the Bay Area Council, adult committee member of Troop 592, deacon of the First Baptist Church, trustee of the church, Sunday School teacher, department superintendent of the Sunday school.

He is also president of the Rotary Club, treasurer of the Northside PTA, director of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, treasurer of the Angleton - Danbury Hospital District and other committee positions.

Neal attended the University of Texas a short while prior to enlisting in the U.S. Army during World War II. He served as infantry patrol sergeant with the 14th Armored in France and Germany. After his discharge he returned to the University of Texas where he received a BA degree and LLB and a Doctor of Jurisprudence.

He was employed by Hartford Insurance Co. in Houston before forming a partnership with E. L. Lehmann, and Angleton insurance agent and banker. The Neals have three sons, Clyde, David and Mark. This year they opened their home to another son, Yul, a Thailand American Field Service student who will live with them during the school year. The entire family participates in community projects.

Armstrong To Run For State Land Commissioner

Bob Armstrong, Austin Attorney and six-year member of the House of Representatives, filed Monday as a Democratic candidate for State Land Commissioner.

"Since I announced my intentions to seek this office some weeks ago, it has become more and more clear from my travels and visits with people all over Texas that there is a crisis of confidence in the administration of the present Land Commissioner," Armstrong said.

"People are especially disturbed by his repeated and lengthy absences from the office for vague reasons, his refusal to communicate through the press to the people on his policies and decisions, and his total unavailability to the public for extended periods of time."

"The Land Office is one of the most important public trusts of the people of Texas can bestow. The position of Land Commissioner is a full-time job. Not only is public education heavily dependent upon the administration of our public lands, but also the land policies of Texas are vital to natural resource conservation."

"It's time that the State Land Commissioner, with his tremendous power over our natural resources, make conservation a priority consideration of his office and his policies."

What Is Ahead For Food Prices?

What is ahead for food prices in 1970?

Gwendolyn Chyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist predicts relatively little increase in average retail food prices between now and the middle of the year.

Meat prices will change little this winter because of reduced supplies of pork and growing demand for beef.

Prices for dairy products, cereal and bakery products, and sugar and sweets likely will continue gradually upward. Little change is likely for fats and oils products.

But steady to lower prices for many foods probably will reflect larger supplies, predicts the Texas A&M University specialist. These include fruits, potatoes, chicken, and eggs.

Prices of both citrus and non-citrus fruits are expected to be favorable to consumers this winter. Lower prices are in sight for both fresh and processed items.

Prices for food away from home likely will continue upward in line with the costs of labor and prices of other consumer services, Mrs. Chyatt warns, however, that many factors affect food prices.

Medical Service Aids Physicians In Diagnosing Rare Birth Defects

"Every week physicians around the country write to us for help in diagnosing rare and unfamiliar birth defects," says Dr. Murray Feingold, co-director of the Syndrome Identification and Consultation Service at Boston Floating Hospital for Infants and Children. This unique service was established last January to facilitate such requests.

Dr. Feingold and Dr. Sydney S. Gellis, co-directors of the Service, are distinguished pediatricians and editors of a monthly feature on pediatric abnormalities which appears in the "American Journal of Diseases of Children."

Dr. Feingold, assistant professor of pediatrics, Tufts University, also is chief of ambulatory services and director of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at the Hospital. Dr. Gellis, professor and chairman of the pediatrics department at Tufts, is hospital pediatrician-in-chief.

Both were concerned with the urgent need for a central source of information about unusual congenital malformations and genetic abnormalities. To meet this demand, the Massachusetts Bay Chapter of the March of Dimes provided a grant for photographs and medical histories of such patients to be circulated throughout several medical centers for comment and opinion.

First of Its Kind
The Syndrome Identification and Consultation Service, first of its kind, is available to physicians without charge. During its first year of operation, requests have been handled from all parts of the United States and abroad.

DR. MURRAY FEINGOLD, co-director of the Syndrome Identification and Consultation Service at Boston Floating Hospital for Infants and Children, studies material pertaining to a rare birth defect.

Doctors seeking advice submit their patient's case history, significant information about pregnancy, delivery and family background, and physical and laboratory findings. Black and white photographs of physical characteristics are included along with any appropriate X-ray films. Color slides were sought at first, but they proved less satisfactory than black and white pictures.

The material is duplicated and mailed to five other consultants in medicine, pediatrics, genetics and dentistry. Their evaluation, together with original reports and photographs, is returned to the referring physician as quickly as possible. The opinions may suggest additional testing or treatment and genetic advice to parents. When the consultants know of a specialist concerned with the particular condition, the referring physician is informed.

Consultants in the Syndrome Information Service are: Dr. Dick Hoefnagel, assistant professor of pediatrics, Dartmouth Medical School; Dr. Victor A. McKusick, professor of medicine and chief, division of medical genetics, The Johns Hopkins University; and Dr. John M. Opitz, assistant professor of pediatrics and medical genetics, University of Wisconsin. All are associated with the National Foundation-March of Dimes Birth Defects Center programs.

Also on the panel are Dr.

According to Dr. Gellis, the results of this expanding study have far-reaching value.

Specialists Help MDs

"Some syndromes are so rare that many physicians may not have encountered the condition previously," he notes. "The Identification Service makes available the experience of a group of specialists who have an extensive interest in these disorders. For the first time we have the opportunity to gather and disseminate this kind of information."

HURST, CONNER EARN BA DEGREE

Laura Mary Hurst, 1917 Redbud, Rockdale and Richard Michael Conner, 115 East Rowena, Rockdale, received the bachelor's degree from the College of Arts and Sciences at the completion of the fall semester, January 24.

The University of Texas at Austin awarded 657 bachelor's degrees in Arts and Sciences. No public graduation exercises were held.

Apple trees are members of the rose family.

MOM'S A COED - Daughters Laura and Mary join the cheering squad for Mrs. George Bowman who received a BA degree from the University of Texas last week. Mother of six, (four in college) she is now enrolled in graduate school at UT with several more years of study and commuting ahead.

Mix Desire, Ability Result: BA Degree

She did it. She said she wanted a college degree, and she got one.

The roll for Bachelor of Arts degree candidates from the University of Texas last week made it official for Mrs. George Bowman of Cameron, and a 3.8 average added a star for emphasis.

It was no casual effort for the vivacious brunette Betty Bowman, mother of six and wife of a busy professional. Add to this the problems of commuting first from Cameron to Temple and later from Cameron to Austin. And the attendant responsibilities of welcoming into the family a son-in-law, daughter-in-law and two grandchildren.

But then, if you aren't studying you are out of step in the Bowman family. Eldest daughter Ann (Mrs. Robert Mann) is a graduate student (Linguistics) at the University of Colorado. George a senior (finance) at the University of Texas. Betsy a junior (special education) at UT. Jim a University of Texas freshman art major. Mary a high school junior and Laura an 8th grade honor student.

Mrs. Bowman and daughter Ann started college together in 1963. Ann at Austin College in Sherman and her mother at TJC. The first year was the hardest. "My mind wasn't attuned to studying," Mrs. Bowman recalled this week. "The memory work required for learning a foreign language was a real test." A nine hour average for "at home" study wasn't unusual in preparation for one hour French class as a freshman.

With a goal of counseling, she has combined a major in philosophy and a minor in psychology, carrying about a two-thirds student schedule for all but one of the 7 years as a coed. (One year was reserved for the added home responsibilities when the Bowman's were hosts to an exchange student from Japan.)

Not one to rest on her laurels, the BA degree is only a start. She is already enrolled in graduate school with a degree plan aimed at a Ph.D. "It's hard work, but I love it."

STUDY TIME - for the Book Committee at Cameron Public Library. Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Miss Louise Jamison, Max McClaren and Mrs. Frank Perrin review publishers lists and current book reviews for monthly additions to the Cameron Library. More than 4,000 books have been purchased since the new library opened in 1966.

Citrus Tops February Foods List

Make February "citrus time" in your household.

Oranges, orange juice and grapefruit are featured on the February plentiful foods list of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A record-large orange crop nationwide and the largest grapefruit production for Texas in 20 years are in the making.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service also reports plentiful supplies of apples, potatoes and broilers, canned tomatoes, tomato products and canned and frozen sweet corn.

Broiler marketings are expected to run about 12 percent more than a year ago. So it will be a good time to center your meal plans around chicken.

A large pack of canned tomatoes combined with record-large carryovers assures more than ample supplies of tomatoes for your table needs this month. Keep plenty on hand.

Book Buying For City Library Takes Committee 'Home Work'

Variety, quality and interest value all have a place in book selection for a public library.

For the Cameron Public Library Book Selection committee this adds up to lots of home work before monthly (and sometimes twice monthly) committee meetings.

Reading book reviews, keeping up with best seller lists and balancing a $100 monthly budget are all essential to assure a balance between fiction, non-fiction, juvenile and adult fare.

And not all of the final selections reflect personal preferences of the selection committee. A current "bestseller" may never join the rolls of the classics, but they might attract readers into the library and hopefully, reading could become a habit.

Mrs. Frank Perrin, book committee chairman, is the guiding light to guaranteeing that each month's selections include the best of new novels, biography, history, current topics and children's literature. 1970 project is to complete the acquisition of Caldecott and Newbery award books published before the new library was built.

The committee also keeps a constant eye alert for new reference type books. The newly published New York Times Encyclopedic Almanac heads the list of January selections. An annual gift from Mr. Frank Stewart, owner of Elm Creek Dairy, is channeled into these reference works.

First consideration at committee meetings are books requested by library users. "We like to be guided by what our readers want in the library," Mrs. Perrin said. "And we hope they will add their requests to the list kept by the librarian."

More than 4,000 books have been purchased by the book committee since the new building opened in 1966.

Mrs. W. O. Triggs, veteran member of the book selection committee, says the monthly meetings are more fun than work. She remembers the early days of the library when the purchase of one new book a month was considered a mile-stone.

Other committee members, appointed by Library Board President Dr. George Bowman, are: Mrs. James Kahler, Max McClaren, Miss Maurine House, Mrs. Frank Loecke and Miss Louise Jamison, librarian.

IN GERMANY

Newly developed stitchless sewing is done with adhesives. Dr. Graham Hard, Extension clothing specialist, says it is the first step toward speedy apparel making by automation.

Ag Researchers Report On 'Popped' Grain Test

DALLAS
Self-feeding of a "popped" dry-heated sorghum grain mixture to finishing steers has resulted in a lower feed intake than that of dry, rolled grain in tests by Texas A&M University researchers.

Sorenson's talk on "Dry Heat Processing of Sorghum Grain for Beef Cattle" pointed out that this lower intake was accompanied by increased efficiency of feed utilization, but gave an insignificant decrease in the rate of gain and final weight.

These results were found in research conducted by Sorenson and J. K. Riggs, A&M professor of animal science, to determine the feasibility of dry heat in a "popping" operation for processing sorghum grain for beef cattle.

An infrared-heated reciprocating steel table machine and a gas heated vibrating tray conveyor machine were used in this study.

"Grain moisture content of 15 percent was optimum for obtaining the highest percentage of completely popped grain," Sorenson said. Maximum popping achieved was 45 percent.

"Popping" the grain added a lot of bulk to the feed as evidenced by the bulk density figures for loose-fill samples which ranged from 49 pounds per cubic foot for the original whole grain to about 6 pounds per cubic foot for the completely popped grain.

Cattle which were fed the dry, heat-treated grain showed significantly higher digestibility of dry matter, organic matter, non-protein organic matter and nitrogen-free extract, but not of fats, fiber or protein, Sorenson noted.

An unknown part, but not all, of the increased digestibility could be attributed to the lower level of feed, the grain and feed processing engineer explained.

"No differences in digestibility were found among cattle fed three different fractions of 'popped' grain indicating that dry heat rather than 'popping' per se was the reason for changes in performance," Sorenson concluded.

Again this year electronic data processing equipment will make it possible to give farmers a report on farm program payments they earned last year.

This continues a service begun two years ago when electronic equipment first made it possible to provide this information to more than 3 million American farmers.

The report includes all direct payments earned by farmers and ranchers during 1969 under programs administered by ASCS. These include: Agricultural Conservation Program, wheat, feed grain, cotton, diversion payments, wool and mohair, Cropland Adjustment, Cropland Conversion, and Soil Bank payments.

Payments reports will aid farmers in preparing their income tax returns. ASCS is required by law to provide information to the Internal Revenue Service on payments made each farmer.

The payments report will not include money received under loan or purchase programs for price support, or loans made to assist farmers in acquiring on-farm grain storage facilities or drying equipment.

Nor will it include payments made for storing commodities under resale loan, or conservation materials and service (CMS) payments made directly to vendors.

It is important that farmers read the explanation of the report carefully and verify the amounts by comparison with their farm records. If an error is found, it should be reported to the county ASCS office as soon as possible for correction.

County Agent's Notes ...

Nitrogen top dress time for small grains is here. The top dressing season is beginning with adequate soil moisture. This means that a good response to added nitrogen may be expected.

If small grains were planted early and grazed, it is reasonable to expect that all of the preplant nitrogen has been used by the crop.

Chemical analysis of highly fertilized oats in the fall of 1969 showed that this crop contained 3.50 % nitrogen (21.87 % Protein).

At this concentration each ton of forage would remove 70 pounds of nitrogen.

Because maximum profits can only be obtained by producing high yields of high quality product, grain or forage, nitrogen top dressing of small grains is a must.

Top dress small grains in January or February with 30 to 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre depending upon condition of crop, previous fertilization, and variety being grown.

A good example of using a good rate of a recommended variety of oats top dressed with nitrogen is at the Jerry Rek Dairy, east of Rockdale. The "lush" mid-winter grazing at the Rek Dairy is an inspiration and Jerry is to be complimented for this accomplishment.

Murdock Lists Cage Statistics

Head Basketball Coach Ron Murdock released statistics for the Yoe varsity's first 22 games on the eve of their meeting with Round Rock, and those statistics look pretty good.

Murdock said this year's district schedule is "real tough," and added that Yoe is playing 28 games this year, one more than in 1968-69.

Season record stood at 13 wins 9 losses as of Tuesday morning, with Yoe scoring at a total of 1163 points or 52.8 per game. Yoe's district record was 4-0. Opponents total was 1119 or 50.8 per game.

In starter individual records, Robert Brashers led scoring with total of 398 points, or an 18 percent average.

Johnny Steamer was second with a 268 total or 12.2 percent average.

Willie White has scored a total of 157 points, giving him a 7.2 average.

Jerry Richardson totaled 132 for a 6.2 average.

Dean Prokisch, a late starter, totaled 51 points for a 5.1 average.

The Yoemen's shooting average stood at 35.4 percent.
